OmniAmerican Credit Union's support of the United States Military has been "captured!" After receiving a large number of care packages from the Navy Marine Corps Relief Society, with the help of OmniAmerican, U.S. troops were eager and excited to show their appreciation. In the snapshot enclosed, military personnel express their gratitude by holding high an OmniAmerican banner signed with love by a convoy of friends, family and other DFW well wishers.

The Navy Marine Corps Relief Society contacted George Cox, Assistant Vice President of OmniAmerican Credit Union's Office at the Naval Air Station/Joint Reserve Base, to invite OmniAmerican to participate in their annual Joint Family Readiness Community Day. This family day at NAS/JRB was an uplifting event where attendees were encouraged to sign the OmniAmerican Credit Union banner to be shipped to the troops. Once the event was complete, the banner was completely filled with words of encouragement, motivation and a heartfelt outpouring of love. George Cox, who attended the event, said, "The banner was so beautiful when it was completed! I'm sure the troops will enjoy the messages from friends and family and I'm so happy OmniAmerican could contribute to this very worthy effort."

The 88 care packages were individually addressed to troops from NAS/JRB Fort Worth and contained items many soldiers don't readily have access to such as wash cloths, toothbrushes, foot powder, shaving cream, and other items. When the troops of the Mobile Inshore Undersea Warfare Unit #109 of NAS attached to the Naval Coastal Warfare Group in Kuwait received the care packages, they took a picture with the unit and sent it back as a very special thank you. They plan to pass the banner around to other troops serving in the Middle East in an effort to share in the “well wishes” from home.
